Farrell Area Elementary and a group of involved parents are committed to organizing and developing a Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) in order to assist and be more involved in the education of their children. We feel PTOs are a largely untapped resource for schools attempting to provide state-of-the-art instruction with diminishing funds and resources.

The vision for the Farrell Area Elementary PTO is that it will aspire to find a way to instill pride and interest in schooling, increase student achievement, support teachers and their children, and enhance a sense of community and commitment at Farrell Area Elementary.

By providing information, education and support, as well as links to other available community resources, the Centers seek to promote the self-sufficiency and well-being of families.

PART II- SHARED RESPONSIBILITIES FOR HIGH STUDENT ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

As a component of the school-level parental involvement policy, each school shall jointly develop with parents for all children served under this part a school-parent compact that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement.

- Conduct a parent/teacher conference in elementary schools, annually (at a minimum), during which the compact shall be discussed as the compact relates to the individual child's achievement.

BUILDING CAPACITY REQUIREMENTS FOR INVOLVEMENT

To ensure effective involvement of parents and to support a partnership among the school involved, parents, and the community, to improve student academic achievement, each school and district under this part –

- a. Assistance will be provided to the parents of children served by the school or district, as appropriate, in understanding such topics as the state's academic content standards and State student academic achievement standards. State and district assessments, the requirements of this part, and how to monitor a child's progress and work with educators to improve the achievement of their children.

The Farrell Area Elementary will provide parents information on the PSSA (Pennsylvania System of School Assessment) annually at a parent information meeting.

Farrell Area Elementary students are regularly tested by the state to find out if they're on track to learning the important skills they need to be successful while in our schools and after graduation. Students are tested on basic academic skills (such as math computation) as well as more advanced skills (such as comparing and contrasting reading passages). Common statewide tests are important because they help make sure all students are getting a quality education regardless of where they live. OSPI develops or selects and administers all state assessments and reports achievement data for individual students, schools, districts and the overall state. This information helps districts and schools refine instructional practices and focus curriculum. It also gives parents information about how well their child is doing and where additional help may be needed.

Parents will be given information on MAP assessments used to measure a student's growth in Mathematics and Reading. The Fall assessment gathers the baseline. The Winter assessment measures progress. The Spring assessment measures the students' growth to that point

- b. Materials and training will be provided to help parents work with their children to improve their children's achievement, such as literacy training and using technology, as appropriate, to foster parental involvement.

The Farrell Area Elementary will provide curricular parent workshops in the areas of English Language Arts, Problem Solving and Inquiry Based Math, Writing strategies, Open-Ended Responses, Text Dependent Analysis, Close Reading Strategies, Google Suites, Science Fusion, Into Math, Wit and Wisdom, Geodes, Foundations, and homework support strategies.

- c. Shall educate teachers, pupil services personnel, principals, and other staff, with the assistance of parents, will be educated in the value and utility of contributions of parents, and in how to reach out to, communicate with, and work with parents as equal partners, implement and coordinate parent programs, and build ties between parents and the school.

The term "parent and family engagement" is used broadly. It includes several different forms of participation in education and with the schools. Parents can support their children's schooling by attending school functions and responding to school obligations (parent-teacher conferences, for example). They can become more involved in helping their children improve their schoolwork--providing encouragement, arranging for appropriate study time and space, modeling desired behavior (such as reading for pleasure), monitoring homework, and actively tutoring their children at home.

Outside the home, parents can serve as advocates for the school. They can volunteer to help out with school activities or work in the classroom. They can take an active role in the governance and decision making necessary for planning, developing, and providing an education for the community's children.

Research has established that the most successful parent participation efforts are those which offer parents a variety of roles in the context of a well-organized and long-lasting program. Parents will need to be able to choose from a range of activities, which accommodate different schedules, preferences, and capabilities. As part of the planning process, teachers and administrators will need to assess their own readiness for involving parents and determine how they wish to engage and utilize them.

Other guidelines include:

- Communicating to parents that their involvement and support makes a great deal of difference in their children's school performance, and that they need not be highly educated or have large amounts of free time for their involvement to be beneficial. The Farrell Area Elementary School will make this point repeatedly.
- Encouraging parent and family engagement from the time children first enter school in kindergarten (or preschool, if they attend).
- Teach parents that activities such as modeling reading behavior and reading to their children increase children's interest in learning.
- Developing parents and family engagement programs that include a focus on parents and family engagement in instruction--conducting learning activities with children in the home, assisting with homework, and monitoring and encouraging the learning activities of older students.
- Providing orientation and training for parents, but remember that intensive, long-lasting training is neither necessary nor feasible.
- Making a special effort to engage the involvement of parents and families of disadvantaged students, who stand to benefit greatly.
- Continuing to emphasize that parents are partners of the school and that their involvement is needed and valued.

d. Shall to the extent feasible and appropriate, coordinate and integrate parents and family engagement programs and activities with Head Start, Early Childhood Council, Farrell P-3, Family Center, public preschool and other programs, and conduct other activities, such as parent resource centers, that encourage and support parents in more fully participating in the education of their children.

e. Shall ensure that information related to school and parent programs, meetings, and other activities is sent to the parents of participating children in a format and, to the extent practicable, in a language parents can understand.

f. Shall provide such other reasonable support for parental involvement activities under this part as parents may request.

g. May involve parents in the development of training for teachers, principals, and other educators to improve the effectiveness of such training.

h. May provide necessary literacy training from funds received under this part if the district has exhausted all other reasonably available sources of funding for such training.

i. May pay reasonable and necessary expenses associated with local parental involvement activities, including transportation and child care costs, to enable parents to participate in school-related meetings and training sessions.

j. May train parents to enhance the involvement of other parents. The Farrell Area School District will have a core group of grade level parents who will be trained on policies, school wide discipline programs, and procedures. This group of grade level parents will in turn train a larger group of classroom parents.

- k. May arrange school meetings at a variety of times, or conduct in-home conferences between teachers or other educators, who work directly with participating children, with parents who are unable to attend such conferences at school, in order to maximize parents and family engagement and participation.
- l. May adopt and implement model approaches to improving parental involvement.
- m. May establish a district parent advisory council to provide advice on all matters related to parents and family engagement in programs supported under this section.
- n. May develop appropriate roles for community-based organizations and businesses in parent and family engagement activities.

PART III-ACCESSIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

In carrying out the parent and family engagement requirements districts and schools, to the extent practical; shall provide full opportunities for the participation of parents with children with limited English proficiency, parents with children with disabilities, and parents of migratory children, including providing information and school reports in a format and, to the extent practicable, in a language such parents can understand.

PART IV-ADOPTION

The Farrell Area Elementary Parent and Family Engagement Policy/Procedures have been developed/revised jointly with, and agreed upon with, parents of children participating in Title I program, as evidenced by meeting agendas.

Farrell Area Elementary School teachers and staff are committed to providing a quality educational program that will challenge all children to reach their potential. We believe when school and parents work together children succeed in school and throughout life. Neither home nor school can do the job alone. Parents play an extremely important role as children's first teachers. Their support for their children and for the school is critical to their children's success at every step along the way.

To ensure that basic skills and knowledge are taught, we will hold educators accountable for effective teaching, hold students accountable for learning, and encourage parent and family engagement in their children's education. We will continually assess student growth in order to provide timely interventions and evaluate our instruction. Additionally, Farrell Area Elementary teachers and staff will work collaboratively with parents and our community in the development, evaluation, and refinement of our Title I program.

The Farrell Area Elementary School is committed to the belief that all children can learn and acknowledges that parents share the school's commitment to the educational success of their children.

The Farrell Area Elementary School recognizes that a child's education is a responsibility shared by the school and family and agrees that to effectively educate all students, the school and parents must work together as partners. It is the practice of the Farrell Area Elementary School to welcome all parents to partner with us in bringing the best educational experience to the children.

At the Farrell Area Elementary we define parents and family engagement as an ongoing process that promotes clear two-way communication between home and school. We achieve home school communication through the following:

- Phone Calls
- Emails
- Parent-Student-Teacher Compact
- Surveys
- Homework Folders
- Evening workshops/events to share strategies and resources
- Interim Reports and Report Cards
- Meet the Teachers Night
- Open House
- Pre-K orientation
- Kindergarten Orientation
- Parent Advisory Committee
- Parent Teacher Conferences
- Web Site
- PTO
- PowerSchools (Student Information System)
- Parent Square

To promote parental leadership, we encourage parents to join the Parent Advisory Committee. The Parent Advisory Committee meets with the Title I staff to plan, review, and help improve Title services as well as update the compact policies, and assist in planning evening workshops or events. At the annual Title I Meeting, parents learn of the school's participation in Title I and the rights of parents to be involved in Title I programs. At the various events, the Title I staff provides strategies for parents to help their children. The Parent Advisory Committee members also have opportunities to attend parent workshops and conferences as a representative of the school.

Title I teachers monitor students' progress utilizing MAP. Additional assessments are conducted on an as needed basis. Title I teachers assist children in a combination of in-class and pull-out instruction.

Parent and family engagement is an integral part of the Title I Program in the Farrell Area Elementary School.

The Title I Parent and Family Engagement section of Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) requires each Title I school to develop a written parent and family engagement policy that describes the means for carrying out the requirement of section 118. The Farrell Area Elementary School does this by the following:

The parents of the Farrell Area Elementary School's Title I students may

- review the Parent and Family Engagement Policy in an understandable format and language provided to them by the fall of each year.
- be involved in the planning, review, and improvement of the school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy
- receive the School-Parent Compact in the fall of each year.

- be reimbursed for reasonable expenses associated with parent involvement activities to enable them to participate in school-related meetings and training sessions by Title I funds.
- be involved in the planning, review and improvement of the program and by the timely informational report about the program offered at the middle and the end of the school year.
- review the curriculum in use at the school, the forms of academic assessment used to measure student's progress and the proficiency levels that the students are expected to meet.
- receive assistance in understanding the state's academic content standards and student achievement standards, local academic assessments and how to monitor a student's progress and work with teachers to improve the achievement of their children.
- receive, when requested, opportunities for regular meetings to formulate suggestions and to participate as appropriate, in decisions relating to the education of their children and to respond to any such suggestions as soon as possible.

- receive material and training to help in working with their children to improve their child's achievement, as appropriate, to foster parent involvement.

- be ensured that information related to school and parent programs, meetings, and other activities will be sent to the parents of participating children in a format and in a language the parents can understand.
